OPPENHEIMER'S ARI WALD NAMED 2016'S TECHNICAL ANALYST OF THE YEAR BY LONDON-BASED TECHNICAL PUBLICATION

New York, April 28, 2016 —Ari Wald, CFA, CMT®, Executive Director of Oppenheimer Asset Management Inc. (OAM), was named Technical Analyst of the Year by The Technical Analyst in its 2016 awards presentation, held April 21, 2016 in London.

Wald had been named a finalist in The Technical Analyst's annual awards in Best Bank Equity Research & Strategy for the third time in four years, winner in the Best Stockbroker Research & Strategy category this year, and, for the first time, named Technical Analyst of the Year — the final category comprised of each of the year's individual category winners.

Ari Wald, who joined OAM in 2014, is the creator and author of "Inflection Points," OAM's weekly technical analysis product, as well as other high-profile weekly and monthly publications. Awards categories are assessed by a panel of independent judges, each of them experts in their respective fields.

"I think this win is great validation of a superb proprietary product that we are proud to present to our clients," said Bryan McKigney, President of OAM.

The Technical Analyst, launched in 2004, is the first and only publication that provides institutional financial markets with technical analysis and commentary. Now in its eighth year, the Awards are highly regarded within the financial markets, attracting participation from hundreds of banks, research houses, and software companies across the globe.
