OPPENHEIMER BOLSTERS TECHNOLOGY INVESTMENT BANKING PRACTICE WITH NEW MANAGING DIRECTOR IN INTERNET AND DIGITAL MEDIA

New York, July 9, 2018 – Oppenheimer & Co. Inc. (“Oppenheimer”) – a leading investment bank, wealth manager, and a subsidiary of Oppenheimer Holdings (NYSE:OPY) – today announced that Angie Pham joined the Firm’s San Francisco office as Managing Director to further expand the Firm’s Internet and Digital Media Investment Banking capabilities. Pham’s hiring is an important development in Oppenheimer’s continuing expansion of its Global Technology Investment Banking team under the leadership of Robin Graham, Head of Technology Investment Banking.

“Oppenheimer’s commitment to the strategic growth of our Global Technology Investment Banking team has already had a measurable impact on the kind of service and solutions we can offer our clients,” said Robert Lowenthal, Head of U.S. Investment Banking at Oppenheimer. “We’ve expanded our Investment Banking group exponentially with new talent and Angie is the latest exceptional hire. All of these individuals bring strong expertise to the Firm and I’m looking forward to seeing how each utilizes their experience and deep knowledge of the industry to provide our clients with world-class service and advice.”

Other prominent recent hires to this team include Michael Buchbinder, who joined the Firm at the end of 2017, and Nitin Doke. Additionally, Oppenheimer has made strategic hires in the Global Technology Group in Europe, including Jens Munk and Ramon De Paz, who joined in Frankfurt and London, respectively.

Pham joins Oppenheimer from Deutsche Bank, where she spent over ten years as a senior Investment Banker providing corporate finance and M&A advice across internet and new media sectors. Throughout her career, she has advised clients and led M&A, equity, and debt capital markets transactions for e-commerce and digital marketplace companies; internet and SMB service providers; digital media and content producers; as well as marketing and advertising technology companies. Pham received her B.S. in Business Administration from the Haas School of Business at University of California Berkeley and earned her M.B.A. from UCLA Anderson School of Management. She also previously gained deep public technology company experience as a CPA in public accounting at KPMG.

“Our tech team’s expertise in the internet sector is critically important as it is applied across all industries in which Oppenheimer bankers provide advice to our clients,” added Graham. “The internet continues to bring efficiencies and disruptive change to sectors from retail and logistics to education, financial services and transportation. We’re leveraging the skills and knowledge of bankers like Angie, who bring deep experience and insight, to identify and provide new investment opportunities to our institutional and retail clients, while also providing our corporate clients with expert strategic advice.”

The Oppenheimer 21st Annual Technology, Internet & Communications Conference will be held August 7-8, 2018 at the Four Seasons Hotel in Boston, MA.
