

Management Committee

Max Lami is the Chief Executive Officer of Oppenheimer Europe Ltd. and Head of Investment Banking for the EMEA region. Mr. Lami joined the Firm in 2009 and brings over 20 years of experience in the financial services industry.

Mr. Lami utilizes his experience to assist the Management and Global Equity Executive Committees with guiding Oppenheimer's overarching strategies and business priorities. He also oversees the strategic positioning of the Firm's international business as the Chairman of the EMEA Financial Transaction Advisory, European Executive, and International Business Development Committees.

Mr. Lami started his career at Bear Stearns International where he was appointed as a Managing Director Principle. He then joined the equities division of Goldman Sachs International where he ran the U.S. product distribution and was a member of the Equities Management Committee. He later became a partner at MLM Capital, a London based professional services firm that worked in partnership with Oliver Wyman, consulting to retail mid-cap banking groups.

Mr. Lami graduated from the University of Florence with a BA/MA in Economics and a focus on Game Theory applied to Public Finance.

Max Lami

Chief Executive Officer,
Oppenheimer Europe
Head of Investment
Banking, EMEA